Hamilton Man Drowned At Noon Today

WAS STRETCHING NET
FOR SUCKER RUN
UP RABBIT RIVER

The village of Hamilton was cast in gloom at noon today when the alarm was spread about town that a young man, Justin Veen, aged 21 years, was drowned in Rabbit river, a tributary of the Kalamazoo river. This river runs through Hamilton and this is where the big bridge is being built for M-40. It seems that young Veen and a companion, Ray Lugtighed, had taken a rowboat down stream for the purpose of attaching the nets to a dipper outfit preparatory to the coming run upstream of spring "suckers." The sucker season has just opened and there is always a fine campaign for dipnet fishers at Hamilton.

Mr. Veen, according to reports, was standing in the boat fastening the net and suddenly lost his balance. He managed to grab the side of the boat and cried out to Ray Lugtighed to run down town for help. The lad at first attempted to pull Veen out but did not have the strength and the boat was also "kippy" and might have brought still greater disaster. The boy did as he was told and soon spread the alarm, but when a saving posse arrived only the hat of the unfortunate man was found. The man went down 200 feet west of the present bridge construction work where the water is ten feet deep. Although dragging has been going for hours, up to going to press the body had not yet been found. The supposition is that the current took the body under the ice and there is little likelihood that the young man's remains will be found until after the ice goes out this spring.

Justin Veen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Veen, living in Hamilton. The bridge boss sent men to assist in the dragging, although Sheriff Miller of Allegan and Bert Vos of Hamilton took charge of the rescuers.

Rev. John Roggen and Henry Ten Brink, both of Hamilton, came to Holland seeking the only sister of the family. She is employed in Saugatuck, but came to Holland to shop. Gertrude Veen was found in Holland and told of the tragedy and was taken to her home in Hamilton. The mother of the boy it is said, had dinner all ready at noon awaiting his arrival.

ROTARY CLUB GIVES BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR FRANK SPARKS

Frank Sparks of the Grand Rapids Herald made another appearance in Holland Thursday and it so happened that his coming to the Rotary club was also the date of his fifty-fifth birthday. Mr. Sparks gave as his subject, "Three Things That Make Me Sick." His talk being state politics, undoubtedly was overcome by his subject matter. Anyway, birthdays mean presents and Brother Connelly was right on the job as usual with a big pair of wooden shoes properly inscribed, inviting him to "klump" back at "Tulip Time." Fifteen other members added to the list of presents, it is said, from fish food, fertilizer, and packages of fish food, augmented brain power. So you can see how thoughtful the members were for the editor of Main and Michigan. Anyway there was a hearty laugh and a "good time was had by all."

LICENSE PLATE TIME EXTENDED TO MARCH 15

Today it was announced that an extension of time on auto license plates had been given to March 15, which was absolutely the deadline, Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, says. He will recognize 1934 plates as legal until midnight March 14.

Atwood's action followed adoption of a resolution in the house of representatives sponsored by Representative James H. Frey, Republican of Battle Creek, asking the extension. The senate was to act on the matter Thursday, but Atwood decided not to wait.

The secretary of state warned Michigan motorists Thursday not to drive outside state boundaries without 1935 stickers or license plates. Atwood said no arrangements had been made with surrounding states for the use of old plates, which may be carried in Michigan until midnight of March 4.

GRAND HAVEN CITIZEN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

William Gustafson, 45, was found dead in his home near Grand Haven about 6 p. m. today. Neighbors reported to the police that he had not been seen since Saturday. An Officer Hirdes investigated. Coroner W. B. Blomendal pronounced death due to suicide by hanging and stated that he believed Gustafson had been dead for several days. No inquest will be held. The deceased lived alone and his family had been notified of his absence only by his wife Anna, who lives in Rockford, Ill.

The sixteenth Street Christian reformed church was well filled Tuesday evening with folks who came to listen to the "all-church program." The program included musical selections, readings, an essay, and short talks and was most interesting.

Here's a fish story which isn't "fishy" but vouched for by those who actually saw the catch. George Overnink, 266 Lincoln avenue, hooked a 13-inch perch in Lake Macatawa Wednesday, which weighed one pound and one ounce. The perch is the largest caught in the year. The second largest fish entered in the annual contest was one weighing 13 ounces, caught by Donald Topp, and third largest, an 11-ounce perch hooked by Ben Sybema.

MAYOR BOSCH WITH GOLDEN CROWN

Our own Nicodemus Bosch is mayor of all he surveys and that is well and good. But we are wondering if our good old mayor harks back from the sixteenth century. Anyway it's puzzling when you look at the large display of Rembrandt's now on exhibition at the Christian High school gymnasium. All visitors, and there are many of them, enjoy the work of this famous Hollandish painter. But invariably they stand "stock still" when their eyes gaze upon one family picture showing Mayor Nicodemus Bosch with a golden crown. We are wondering if the mayor is reincarnated. However, an investigation shows that "Nicodemus" is nothing of that sort, but plain flesh and blood like the rest of us, and his hobby is being mayor of the city. The investigation shows that Rembrandt painted a picture of his much beloved brother, crowning him when crowns were still popular. But the crux of this story is that Holland's mayor is an excellent double for Rembrandt's brother. The only difference today is that Rembrandt is dead and Nick is very much alive.

Rembrandt Alms Bosch

If you want to see Nick in royal trappings, visit the Christian High school gymnasium where about 200 paintings of famous mayors are on display Friday afternoon and evening. Mr. C. H. Mahoney and Dr. H. Muncie will be present at this meeting and will discuss the growing of onions and other muck crops. The main topics for discussion will be varieties, diseases, and disease control, and cultural practices.

MUCK FARMERS' MEETING PLANNED A THOLLAND

Missionary societies of Holland churches will sponsor a fellowship meet March 8 in First Reformed church in harmony with the world day of prayer for missions. The program will include as speakers Mrs. George E. Kollen, Mrs. James A. McAlpine and Miss Jean Walvoord of Holland, and Rev. H. Harling, missionary on furlough from Africa.

FRUIT OUTLOOK GOOD IN FENNIVILLE REGION

The outlook for fruits in this section is excellent, according to growers, who are trimming trees every day weather conditions permit. Many apples are being shipped daily. The Fenniville Fruit exchange still has a quantity of this fruit in storage. The annual meeting of this organization will be held in March.

The Lake Shore Sugar Co. Friday will make a cash payment of $28,000 to 1,150 sugar beet growers, the second of the year under the 50-50 agreement, making a total of $5 per ton. Final payment will be made after all the sugar refined here has been sold. Growers also will receive $1 a ton benefit from the federal government. Contracts for the 1935 season are being written.

TO SING IN HOLLAND THURSDAY

The joint chorus of the Christian Reformed churches of Zeeland will present a program in Ninth Street Christian Reformed church in Holland this, Thursday, evening, under direction of Rev. William Kok.

As a result of the evangelistic work done here by the Rev. Clifford Lewis of Montgomery, Alabama, a local unit of the national organization of the Young People's Fellowship Clubs of America has been organized in Holland with approximately 50 consecrated members. Many others are expected to join. The club is interdenominational.

President Wynand Wichers is being mentioned by Michigan Republicans as an excellent man for superintendent of public instruction. If Mr. Wichers wants that job Holland and Ottawa county delegates will surely stand by him in the state convention held at Detroit today, Friday. Only we don't want him to leave Hope college for the institution never needed him more than now.

Whole Holland Family Has Now Been Wiped Out

DEATH OF MOTHER AT 83
BRINGS PAST HISTORY

The death of Mrs. Kate Ver Schure, for years a resident on West Ninth street, Friday at the home of her brother, Henry H. De Maat, 234 West Eleventh street, at the age of 83 years, brings to mind the history of a family where tragedy stalked from the very beginning. The first tragic death was the drowning in Black lake of "Andy" Ver Schure, a young son. This was in the early days. Then the father, John Ver Schure, who died in 1919, was severely injured in a railroad accident some years before.

At the time of the accident he was freight agent for the old Chicago and West Michigan, now the Pere Marquette, and was caught between two lumber cars and so seriously injured that he was laid up for over a year and became unfit for railroad duty. He entered the mercantile business in Holland under the name of Notier and Ver Schure, the late Mat Notier, veteran soldier, being a partner. Later Mr. Ver Schure was employed at the Holland City State bank.

Possibly the most awesome death in that family was when Peter Ver Schure another son was sealing logs at the C. L. King basket factory, then located on the site of Kollen's park, when a pyramid of logs gave way and rolled over the man who was working in front of them. He was crushed to death instantly.

Then an epoch of disease entered the family and tuberculosis and diphtheria took the lives of four girls and a brother, stragulation snuffed out the life of the last remaining member of the family. For several years Mrs. Kate Ver Schure, the aged mother, with the entire family gone, carried her deep sorrow without a murmur and her only comfort was a granddaughter, Miss Jerene Ver Schure, who has been living in Miami, Fla., for the past four years, and part of the time the aged lady spent at least the winter months in the South.

Mrs. Ver Schure was born in The Netherlands on March 31, 1851, and came to this country at the age of 16, living here ever since.

Their first home was located at the edge of Black lake on the site of the Holland Furniture company. Later the family moved to 70 West Ninth street. She has been a member of the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church for at least two score years.

She is survived by one brother, Henry H. DeMaat, living at 231 West Eleventh street, and a granddaughter, Miss Jerene Ver Schure, of Miami, Florida, who has been teaching in the South. Several nephews and nieces also survive. The remains were at Dykstra's funeral mortuary where friends were given the privilege of paying their respects. Funeral services were held at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Ver Schure home, 70 West Ninth street, with the Rev. N. J. Monsma, pastor of Ninth Street Christian Reformed church, officiating. Burial took place in the Ver Schure plot in Pilgrim Home cemetery.

MISS NEEDHAM IS EN- GAGED TO JAMES R. GETZ

(Chicago Tribune)

A young couple making plans for a spring wedding is one whose engagement is being announced this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Maurice H. Needham of 219 Lake Shore drive, Chicago. The young lady is their younger daughter, Betsy, and her fiancé is James Rankin Getz, younger son of George P. Getz, of Chicago and Lakewood, Fla. Holland. Miss Needham, tall and blonde, is very charming. She did not make a formal debut after finishing school at Miss Madeira's in Washington, but she became a member of the Chicago Junior League and is one of its most active workers. This winter she has been studying at the Art Institute.

Before going away to school she attended the Girls' Latin school. She has a sister, Nedra, who was married to Earl Bruce Miller III, in October, 1933, and two younger brothers, John, a freshman at Harvard, and Richard, a student at the Boys' Latin school.

Mr. Getz prepared at Choate for Yale. After his graduation there he worked as a journalist in Chicago, but he now is engaged in business with his father. His older brother, George P. Getz, Jr., married Olive Atwater two years ago.

News Items Taken From the Files of Holland City News Fifty, Twenty-five and Fifteen Years Ago Today

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The steamer Michigan, which left Grand Haven in search of the Onida with Capt. Prindwell and twenty-nine men aboard, has been heard from. She is in the ice about twenty miles off shore between Saugatuck and South Haven. Half her crew was sent ashore and have finally arrived in Grand Haven. These men had a terrible experience—it taking twelve hours to walk over the ice to shore and many had their faces and hands badly frozen. The clerk of the boat, W. D. Kenny, who had the misfortune of getting a foot wet, had this member freeze on him almost immediately. It rendered him so lame he had to be assisted by two of his comrades for at least ten miles and finally he had to be carried since he would drop to sleep the moment he fell down from exhaustion and then freeze. They landed at the small village of West Casco in Allegan county, where the inhabitants did all they could for them preventing the men from perishing. It is said that Kenny will lose his foot because of its being severely frozen. Horses and sleighs were secured and the crew passed through Holland for Grand Haven. The remainder of the crew stayed on board and have ratings of former Grand Haven residents. The year 1885 was an extremely cold winter, Lake Michigan being nearly frozen over. The files of this year chronicle storms lasting weeks, and snow eight feet high in some places.

Mr. Marius Boone has sold his lively stables to "Allie" C. Van Raalte and Bastian D. Keppel. We hope these young men will be successful in their new adventure.

Capt. Kirby of Grand Haven offers to give bonds for the construction of a ship canal 75 feet wide and 14 feet deep from Grand Haven to Grand Rapids for the small sum of half million dollars. Note:—Mr. Kirby was a ship builder and owner. He was the father of former Probate Judge Edward P. Kirby, then of Grand Haven. It seems that Grand Haven fostered a ship canal even before Holland did or rather Grand Rapids politicians did. The late Congressman Malvin H. Ford, an attorney from Grand Rapids, won an election on that proposal, Holland forgetting her Republicanism and voted for the canal which never materialized since congress was too hard up to build canals at that time. Another canal project from Holland to Grand Rapids is now at least receiving the government surveyor's attention. Anyway, 50 years of canal agitation in Ottawa county has still brought no waterway.

The "Chinese must go," and acting upon this injunction our pig-tailed laundry man has vanished. Note:—This Chinese laundryman was located in a one-story shack where the J. C. Penney store now is. He was a real "Chink," quite and all. The yellow man didn't make so much trouble as did Hope college students made trouble for the "Chink." At least he was persuaded to leave the city and he had pig tails flying and flat iron lifted to strike a pesterer, will no longer be seen on the streets of Holland.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Owing to the annoyance of a lot of boys on the ice, the horse of Paul Van Vulpert ran away on Black lake. He was driving home with his wife and child to Waukauc, across the ice and boys persisted in skating around the rig, thus frightening the horse. While no serious damage was done to the outfit the occupant had a close call from serious injuries on the solid ice.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Miles Saturday, twins, a boy and a girl. The latter died on Sunday. Note:—The son is still living and his name is Fred, Jr.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heeringa, a son; also to Mr. and Mrs. T. De Weerd; a daughter, to Mr.

WOODEN SHOE INDUSTRY IN HOLLAND BOOMS

Wooden shoe industry is looking up.

Half a hundred workers here are turning out 2,500 pairs of them in preparation for the pageantry of the annual Holland Tulip festival next May, and for the use of farmers of Dutch extraction who refuse to abandon the old country footwear. It is not unusual for Dutch farmers in rural districts to wear wooden shoes throughout the year while doing out-of-doors chores.

BROTHER OF TWO LOCAL DOCTORS DIES

The funeral of Harn J. Brower, who died at 9 o'clock Friday morning at his home near Oakland following a long illness, was held Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home and at 1:30 p. m. at the Oakland Christian Reformed church, the Rev. A. Kolkman officiating. Mr. Brower was the eldest grandson of the late Rev. R. Smit, who organized the once flourishing United Presbyterian church in Drenthe, Michigan. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Brower of Oakland. Surviving are Mrs. Anna Brower and sons, Harold and Clarence. He was also a brother of Dr. A. J. Brower, Holland, local dentist. Another brother, Ralph Brower, and two sisters, Mrs. John Kamp, of Ripon, California, and Mrs. Albert Ver Beek of Oakland also survive. Interment took place in Bethel cemetery.

A disastrous fire occupies at least a column of space in the News. It was discovered in the boiler rooms of the Superior Ice & Machine Co., west of the Graham and Morton docks. The wind from the lake was terrific and added to the difficulty of fighting the fire and besides it was bitter cold. In spite of these handicaps the firemen did wonderful work. Two powerful streams were poured on the flames and the flames soon became a smudge. The building gutted. Benjamin Baldus, who conducted a welding shop in the building, lost his entire acetylene equipment. This is his second loss of fire, his first being in the Holland Aniline fire some months before. All the ice-making machinery was saved and Officers Charles Fairbanks and B. Naberhuis state that the destroyed boiler rooms will be rebuilt at once. John Schouten, chairman of the police board, as well as the fire department, are looking for a new site for the building.

John Brinkman, Jr., and Miss Laura Lemmen were married at the home of the bride's parents, Michigan avenue. Rev. R. Veldman of Prospect Park church officiated.

Look, here! We find in a local item that John J. Riemersma, principal of Holland school, was George Washington for a night. It was the Old Time concert given by the school teachers' club—"Washington's First Defeat" was the name of the playlet. Others in the cast were Miss Lucy Grymes, Washington's first love (or at least one of them); Cornelia, colored mammy, Miss Minnie Smith; Miss Gertrude Wieks, director.

The defense testimony was heard Tuesday afternoon when Dick Ver Hage took the stand. He admitted that he was in the vicinity when the accident happened and confirmed the testimony of Miss Cornelia Olthoff, who was with him at the time that he struck what he believed to be a tree. Miss Olthoff was called as a defense witness and repeated what she had told the court when called by the plaintiff.

Harry Bolt, who was driving behind the Ver Hage car, testified that he did not see anything on the road that appeared to be a person struck by a car. With him were three other friends who supported his story.

The case went to the jury at 5 p. m. and the verdict was returned about 10:30 p. m.

THE "KOFFEE KLEZ" IS MOVING KEEFERS

Character witnesses testified that Ver Hage enjoyed excellent reputation in the community and was a law-abiding young man. There is a possibility of the case being appealed, it is stated.

Youth Guilty; Leaving Scene Of Accident

HUDSONVILLE BOY TRIED FOR DEPARTING AFTER GIRL IS INJURED

Dick Ver Hage, aged 21, of Hudsonville was convicted by a circuit court jury in the courthouse at Grand Haven, charged with leaving the scene of accident when Miss Nelva Overzeet, aged 15, of Hudsonville, was seriously injured, and Ver Hage drove away from the scene after the accident.

The jury recommended leniency, and undoubtedly Judge Miles will mete out sentence in the case at the close of the February and March term. The accident happened on December 9, 1934, when the car the man was driving struck the young lady and he failed to stop to assist the injured girl, according to the police report.

The case opened Monday afternoon with Miss Overzeet on the stand, who testified that she had attended the Christian Endeavor society meeting at the South Blendon church and was returning to her home about 8:30 p. m. She was walking on the right side of the road and noticed a car behind her. She stated she remembered nothing more until a few days later when she gained consciousness in St. Mary's hospital, Grand Rapids, despite the fact that she walked to her home some distance from where she was struck and was later taken to Grand Rapids.

Miss Hermine Avink, Charles Steffens and Richard Wierenga, all of that section, told the jury that they were driving along the same road later in the evening and thought they noticed something along the side of the road. They turned around and went back to look and found a hat and purse which they knew belonged to Miss Overzeet and returned them to the parents. Miss Overzeet was home at that time. She was lying on the couch with a deep cut on her head four or five inches long, it was shown by the testimony.

Miss Cornelia Olthoff, 17, testified that she was driving that night with Ver Hage when the glass on the right door of the car was suddenly smashed. The driver, Dick Ver Hage, inquired at the time if she had stuck her head through the window. She stated that a piece of bark was later found in the car and the two believed they had struck the branch of a tree. She said that when they arrived in Hudsonville Mr. Ver Hage stopped and examined the car and found a deep dent in the window casing on the right door but no other marks indicating that he had struck anything. He told his father of the circumstances the next morning. Miss Olthoff stated that after they discovered the car had hit something they returned over the road but found no one on the road and no indications that they had hit anything.

Sheriff Ben Rosema, Edward Ryenga, under sheriff, and John DeVree, deputy at Hudsonville, told of their investigation. Mr. DeVree stated that he was called about 11 p. m. and noticed tracks in the road, covered with snow, that showed a car had swerved, and indications on the snow showed that a body had been thrown into the bank and there were blood stains on the snow. He tried to identify tire treads but found none, he stated.

The people were represented by Prosecutor John Dethmers, and the defense by attorneys from Grand Rapids.

The defense testimony was heard Tuesday afternoon when Dick Ver Hage took the stand. He admitted that he was in the vicinity when the accident happened and confirmed the testimony of Miss Cornelia Olthoff, who was with him at the time that he struck what he believed to be a tree. Miss Olthoff was called as a defense witness and repeated what she had told the court when called by the plaintiff.

Harry Bolt, who was driving behind the Ver Hage car, testified that he did not see anything on the road that appeared to be a person struck by a car. With him were three other friends who supported his story.

The case went to the jury at 5 p. m. and the verdict was returned about 10:30 p. m.

MICHIGAN'S 100-YEAR-OLD SLOGAN STILL HOLDS GOOD

"Sic Quæris Peninsulam
Amœnam-Circumspice"

Michigan's seal is very closely interwoven with our state's history. Not so long ago the News printed a history of the seal. Today, as an ode to Michigan's one hundredth anniversary, our rural poet, Schepers, wrote the following. The Latin inscription in the heading means "If thou seeketh a delightful peninsula, look about thee."

(Holland's Rural Poet)

We celebrate
This year, the date,
When Michigan
On this began
To be a State.

"Old Times" were here—
The pioneer
Brought new-made spouse
To log-built house—
No neighbors near.

His sturdy arm
Filled woodland charm
With sounds that please,
For falling trees
Will clear his farm.

Black bears and deer
And wolves were here;
In lonely night
Folks knew there might
Be panthers near.

But all behaved
With courage; braved
The episodes
Of make-shift roads—
Now graded, paved.

State's Century
Has passed away;
The solemn wood's
Vast solitudes—
But memory!

A hundred years
Of Pioneers
Of constant shift
And urge to drift
To new frontiers.

But to the few
Were added to
Who settled down;
So village, town,
To city grew.

And many a name
Now known to fame
From out these crude,
And often rude,
Surroundings came.

On fertile fields
The farmer wields
His tools of toil,
And from the soil
Gets paying yields.

While tourists who
Come here to view
Our scenes and play,
Delighted say
Our slogan's true:—

From strand to strand
On every hand
Where you may be
"Look round and see
A pleasant land."
RALPH SCHEPERS.

LOCAL

Mrs. Lyle F. Shaw, who was seriously ill about a month ago, and now was visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. De Groot, was again taken ill and brought to Hackley hospital, Muskegon.

The "Adelphi" society of the Ninth Street Christian Reformed church surprised the pastor, Rev. N. J. Monson, Monday evening when approximately forty young ladies gathered at the parsonage for that purpose. The group brought not only refreshments, but also a beautiful gift which they presented to Rev. and Mrs. Monson. A short program of music and short talks was followed by a program of games.

Rev. Seth VanderWerf, district secretary of the Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church in America, conducted services in two local Reformed pulpits Sunday, preaching in Fourth church at 9 a. m. and at Eighth church at 2:30 p. m. Neil Meyer, Western Seminary student, conducted the morning and evening services at Third church.—Grand Rapids Her-

J. Don Matheson, president of the First State bank, motored to Florida with his family for a few weeks. "Don" has put in a hard year and a vacation at this time is very timely.

Charles H. McBride, former city attorney, presided over the meeting at the Tavern when the Board of Insurance of Holland met at luncheon with Herbert W. Florer of Grand Rapids as the guest speaker.

Mrs. Douwe Buma, formerly of Zeeland and later of Holland, and still later of Grand Rapids, where she lived eight years, died at the age of 81 Monday. The funeral was held in Zeeland from the First Christian Reformed church. Short services were held at the Grand Rapids home, presided over by Dr. Y. P. De Jonge, while a nephew, Rev. David Gramsma, officiated at the Zeeland church where the remains were taken. Interment took place in Zeeland cemetery today. The survivors are a husband and a daughter, Winifred.

The number of contestants in the Tulip Theme song contest has reached 42. William M. Connelly of the Chamber of Commerce announced. The deadline for entry into the contest is Friday.

Rev. James Weyer, for many years pastor of the First Reformed church, was in South Holland, Illinois Sunday. Mr. Weyer came to Holland 15 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Dornbos entertained Andrew Boeve of West Olive Sunday at their Washington boulevard home.

Rev. Thomas Yff of Borculo will speak this Friday afternoon before the Eunice Aid society in Fourteenth Street Christian Reformed church.

ONLY 50 CRANES IN THREE STATES

Sandhill cranes, which are facing extinction in North America because of illegal hunting and lack of proper breeding places, may be saved through purchase of a 30,000-acre sanctuary in central Minnesota as part of the Federal sub-marginal land retirement program.

According to Prof. Aldo Leopold, of the University of Wisconsin, there are only about 25 pairs of sandhill cranes in breeding and wintering grounds in the states of Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin, most of which nest in the projected purchases area.

The species is of particular interest to science, says Prof. Leopold, because little is known of its food and life except that it is migratory and eats corn and tubers. Its spring mating dance has been witnessed by few persons, although a Minnesota scientist succeeded a few years ago in making a motion picture film of several birds in Burnett county, Wisconsin.

Our next post meeting will be held on March 13.

We had a full house at our meeting on February 27, and a wonderful program was arranged by Frank Van Ry and Tony Den Uyl. Mr. M. B. Rogers, superintendent of Zeeland schools, talked on the "Problem of the Youth," and the Trinity church quartet sang several songs.

There is a rumor afloat that the legion and auxiliary are to have a pot luck supper, probably on March 21. As soon as this rumor is confirmed and the date set we will give you more facts.

About twelve Holland folks attended the Fifth district meeting at Grand Rapids last week. A snappy business meeting and a good dinner and dancing were all in the order of the day.

We can't help feeling a little sorry for the boys who went stag. They did not dance. The last we saw of Van Meteren, Cook and Dalman and Den Uyl they were sitting around a table with the Stein sisters.

The auxiliary had a patriotic program at their last meeting. Miss

Betty Mills gave a reading; Mrs. H. J. Karsten gave a piano solo "Valeik" by Mokrejs, and Mrs. Dick Martin spoke on the veterans' hospitals. Mrs. John Roseboom and committee served refreshments.

The legion monthly magazine can now be read by the whole city. The post has ordered a subscription to be delivered to the city library.

Don't forget the drill team. The next drill will be next Wednesday evening in the legion rooms. Every member is expected to be there and trip over his own feet.

Al Joldersma, Al Van Lente and Andy Rutgers were presented with bronze pins in token of their labors in securing ten members each. Ben Lieve is entitled to a gold pin for getting thirty members, but due to the gold standard situation his pin will be delayed a few days.

It appears that Mrs. Slooter is becoming considerably worried because her husband, Ed, the scribe, is seemingly losing his memory, and as result she has to spend every Thursday morning looking for the legion books. Will someone please donate a chain so that the book can be attached to Ed's neck?

PAINTINGS OF REMBRANDT, DE HOOGH AND OTHERS ON DISPLAY HERE

Holland citizens are invited to see about 500 copies of famous paintings, which are being displayed in the gymnasium of the Christian High school all this week. The public is invited to view these paintings afternoons and evenings for the remainder of the school week. The display, which includes works of Dutch painters such as De Hoogh, Hals, Rembrandt and Hobbema as well as those of other nations, are of large size and accurate reproductions.

A small admission fee of 10 cents is being charged, proceeds of which will be used for the purchase of pictures for the Christian schools.

HOLLAND COUPLE MARRIED THIRTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. John Kroll, Route 2, of Holland, are celebrating their thirtieth wedding anniversary this Thursday evening, surrounded by 35 relatives. Mr. Kroll was married to Miss Hattie Overberg of Borculo on Thursday, February 28, 1905. The marriage was performed at the Christian Reformed church parsonage by Rev. Hulst at Grand Rapids on Colbrook street. There are two children, Henry Kroll, manager of Kroger Co. downtown store, and Mrs. Anna Diepenhorst, whose husband also is employed in that establishment.

"Ball Machines" Cited as Illegal

(Allegan News)
A warning to business men of Allegan county, who have the so-called "ball-machine" in operation in their place of business or who have punch boards, that action to seize such machines and boards is due by county officials, was issued this week by Welborne S. Luna, county prosecuting attorney.
In the near future it is expected that places having such machines or punch boards will be visited and their machines confiscated as part of a drive to clean up petty gambling devices. Included in the list of devices are slot machines and machines that offer a trade or cash value for obtaining a required number of points.
An opinion from the state's attorney general's office, recently solicited by Mr. Luna, cites such machines as gambling devices and as such, liable to confiscation by the state.

Before taking action of any sort, however, Mr. Luna declared he desired to issue warning to business men having such machines and to urge them to clear them from their premises.

An investigation has revealed that there are scores of such machines in operation throughout Allegan county.

FIRE LOSS LAST YEAR IN VILLAGE ONLY $3,500

Saugatuck may well be proud of its fire department and equipment. According to the annual report made by Fire Chief F. J. Wals, there were 15 fire calls, 4 in village and 11 outside calls. The buildings endangered were valued at $50,000. The total fire loss was only $3,500.
This small loss shows that the Saugatuck department is well equipped and the men are alert and efficient to a remarkable degree.

The men and women's glee clubs under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Fenton will give combined concerts in Grand Haven, Kalamazoo, and Grand Rapids in the Reformed churches of those cities. The glee clubs are practicing twice a week in view of the coming concerts. At the first of the year a trip was planned, which would have been the first in several years. The present plan, which is much like that of last year, was decided upon.

TO THE VOTERS OF OTTAWA AND ALLEGAN COUNTIES:

I was very highly amused a short time ago by an advertisement I read in the Grand Haven Tribune, which constructed Mr. Clark's platform for Circuit Judge. He stated that he believed that too much of the taxpayers' money was spent on small cases which should be settled out of court. Mr. Clark intimates that such settlements should be encouraged by the Judge before such cases come to Court.
I have had seven years' experience as Court Officer in Ottawa County, during which time it was my privilege to hear and work with the best Attorneys and Judges in western Michigan. It is my opinion that all cases are important, and brought into Court only because they cannot be settled otherwise.

Every person has a right to his or her case in Court, and may demand a fair and impartial trial by Judge Jury as everybody knows, which is guaranteed by our Federal Constitution. What would Mr. Clark say as an Attorney, if he brought a case in Court, and the Judge said, "Mr. Clark, and counsel for the defense, there is not very much involved in your case. I don't like to hear your case. You men had better settle it out of Court; it costs too much for the taxpayers."

I have worked with Judge Miles a good many years, and have always found Judge Miles very fair and honest in his dealings, and a consideration of the taxpayers always at heart.

Let us review some facts. Since April 1932, Judge Miles has placed 109 men on probation in Ottawa County, with highly gratifying success. Of these 109 men, seven have been brought in for re-sentence, a RECORD which tells me that Judge Miles' judgment has not erred very often. Had the remaining ninety-two of men and women been sentenced to prison, for the minimum six months term, (which costs $1.23 per person per day, or $448.95 a year), it would have cost the taxpayers $22,896.45 more than it has at the very least; figures not to be "sniffed" at during these times. We must also figure the cost of supporting the family during prison confinement.

I have always known Judge Miles to be an honest man of great integrity. Judge Miles is seeking his second term, and very deserving of that term. It would be an injustice to the community not to elect him again.

Signed,
JACK SPANGLER,
Probation Officer, Ottawa County. (Political Adv.)

ZEELAND

It was mission Sunday at Second Reformed church at Zeeland all day last Sabbath. The pastor, Rev. Richard Vandenberg, spoke on the subject, "Challenge of Foreign Missions." Mohammedanism and Buddhism, the speaker said, are not satisfying to the peoples of foreign countries and there is great demand for Christian faith and this is especially perceptible among the more enlightened and ranking officials of heathen nations. Rev. E. DeWitt of Jamestown, who occupied the pulpit in the evening, also discussed missionary topics. On both occasions appropriate music augmented the programs.

Miss Evelyn Beach of the music faculty of Hope college, rendered a group of trumpet solos at a meeting of the Zeeland Woman's Literary club Tuesday afternoon. She was accompanied by Miss Frieda Van't Hooft.

TO THE PEOPLE OF OTTAWA COUNTY:

I was appointed chief probation officer for the Twentieth circuit in 1923, and have served as such, while Mr. Miles has presided as Judge of the circuit. He has given the problems of young men considerable attention, and we in Allegan county feel that it would be most unfortunate if the people of Ottawa county should fail to support him enthusiastically for re-election on March 4. He is certain of a large majority in Allegan county, and I hope he will be treated well by the voters in Ottawa county.

J. J. FARRELL,
Chief Probation Officer of the Twentieth Circuit Court.

GREENHOUSES DESTROYED
BY FIRE SUNDAY

A bad fire destroyed two greenhouses and the boiler room belonging to Ben Zenderink, Grand Haven commercial florist and landscapist, last night, the damages estimated to be between $4,000 and $5,000. There was no insurance.

Neighbors discovered fire at 7:30 p. m. at the Zenderink place on Wallace street and turned in the alarm as Mr. and Mrs. Zenderink were at church. The fire department responded and fought the flames in the face of a blizzard, confining the blaze to the boiler room and hot houses, by running a hose from the Ottawa Steel Products company hydrant. The house, garage and several other buildings, besides quantities of trees and shrubs, used for landscaping were endangered as the fire was fanned by the heavy wind.

DOG LICENSES MAY BE PAID
WITHOUT PENALTY ON OR BEFORE MARCH 1

The deadline for paying dog licenses without penalty falls on March 1, today. After that the rates will double. The tax is $1.00 for males, $2.00 for females and $1.00 for unsexed dogs. Many have been paying the taxes to the city treasurer during the past few weeks. After March 1 the collection is turned over to the county treasurer who collects double.

With the appointment of a dog warden in this city dogs without licenses are more liable to be picked up and held for a time, or disposed of.

REPUBLICANS EXPECT 500
AT BANQUET MARCH 27

The Tri-Cities Republican club will sponsor a banquet in this city March 27. It is planned to be the largest Republican banquet and rally ever held in this city. Efforts will be made to seat 500 people and while the place has not yet been designated the committee in charge is looking to the Armory as the one place in this city sufficiently large to accommodate the Republicans from over the county who will attend.

A meeting will be held in the supervisors' room at the court house on Wednesday night to appoint committees and work out details of the gathering. National and statewide speakers are to be on the program; names will be announced later.—Grand Haven Tribune.

What a Haven
For City
Officials.

Writes Charles Bassett, Old-time Editor and Fruit Man

The affairs of Fennville village have been conducted in such a careful manner the past year that the treasurer now has a cash balance on hand of over $8,000. With such a record it is not strange that but one village caucus was called and the one held Monday evening unanimously renominated every one of the village officers whose terms expire this spring. They are: James Bale, president; Ernie Crane, clerk; E. C. Foster, treasurer; J. E. Burch, assessor; Donald Dickinson, Samuel Beagle and Lionel Becher, trustees. The other trustees holding over are: M. C. Hutchinson, Cleon Scarlett and Kenith Jackson. At the close of the caucus Duncan Weaver presented the matter of paving the side streets with tarvia. Delay of this work was caused by a report of the engineer that several of the side streets were not properly graded and did not have sufficient gravel foundation to receive the tarvia. The re-location of US31 was also mentioned and it seemed to be the idea that the matter had been definitely determined and that it would come south from Holland on the avenue that passes the hospital and south five miles; then southwest to the old bridge between Saugatuck and Douglas, where a new bridge would be built. With the county improving the road north from New Richmond, Fennville would have a paved road north to intersect the new road south from Holland. This road work is promised this year.

No Fishing
Licenses
Bring Arrests

AT LEAST 177 WERE "PULLED"—69 BECAUSE THEY DID NOT HAVE LICENSE CARD

Fishermen who forgot that their 1934 fishing licenses expired Dec. 31 or who willfully neglected to take out 1935 licenses, topped the list of conservation law offenders arrested during January, the report of the Field Administration Division, Department of Conservation, shows.

Of 177 arrests made for violations of the fish and game laws in Michigan during the first month of the year, 69 were charged with fishing without a license. The largest number of arrests on that charge was reported from Muskegon county.

January's total of arrests was the smallest since March of 1934, a sizeable drop being noted in the number of individuals taken into custody for infractions of the hunting laws as well as the trapping laws under the December figures.

Fines totaling $1,050 and costs amounting to $881.50 were assessed violators in justice court. An aggregate of 721 days of jail sentences was imposed. Twelve respondents were placed on probation and three were dismissed or given suspended sentences. No cases were reported lost during prosecution.

Of the 15 firearms confiscated by officers, seven were single-barrel shotguns, four were double-barrel shotguns or repeaters, and four were rifles. Other illegal property confiscated, while in legal use or possession, included a 16-foot boat, 300 pounds of venison, 69 traps, four gill nets, four spears, 300 pounds of illegally-caught gamefish, 17 heaver pelts, 16 muskrat pelts, an otter pelt, nine rabbits, a live ferret, a mechanical ferret and 10 ice lines.

In addition to the fishing law offenders, conservation officers placed charges against 40 individuals for infractions of the hunting laws and against 30 for breaking the trapping laws.

Included in the 105 arrests for fishing law violations were: Fishing without a license, 69; spearing, netting or possession of illegal trout, 11; exceeding fish catch limit, spearing bass or bluegills, seven each; possession of undersize perch, four; netting perch, two; possession of black bass, exceeding legal number of ice lines, spearing with borrowed license, non-resident fishing without legal license and commercial fishing without license, one each.

Hunting without a license constituted the largest number of violations taken for breaking the hunting laws. Eight were taken into custody on that count. Illegal possession of venison and possession of gun or deer loads in deer territory brought seven arrests each; hunting pheasants, three; possession of gun in wildlife sanctuary, shooting quail and possession of ferret, two each; killing raccoon, transportation of partridge, killing partridge, aiding and abetting the killing of partridge, false swearing to obtain resident deer license, false swearing to obtain small-game license, possession of pheasant, possession of bald eagle and loaning hunting license, one each.

Arrests for trapping violations during January are as follows: Not listing or reporting furs, 11; buying fur without a license, four; illegal possession of pelts, five; using mechanical device to take rabbits, three; setting traps without tags, two; trapping in closed season, two; illegal shipment of beaver hide, trapping near muskrat houses, and trapping rabbits, one each.

Want Altogether a New Route

Establishment of a state agricultural school at Fennville was suggested by the village council and a proposal was submitted that an effort be made to have US31 rerouted from Holland through New Richmond and Fennville with a new bridge over the Kalamazoo at New Richmond instead of Douglas for which $200,000 has been authorized by the state highway commission and for which blueprints have already been prepared at Fennville.

The news suggested this route four years ago when there was so much trouble re-locating or re-building US31. Surely this suggestion, if followed, would connect Holland with an unsurpassed scenic highway through the New Richmond and Fruit Belt country around Fennville and make better connection with another large village, New Richmond, from the hill top, with a full view of the Kalamazoo river, is one painter's rave about. Resort towns should have scenic highways and byways, the "more the merrier." This highway and a better Saugatuck road wouldn't be half bad.

THE QUEEN OF SHEBA
AND SOLOMON

Chicago, February 28.—Another "Immortal Drama," the story of Solomon and Sheba, will be presented Sunday, March 3, at 2 p. m., eastern standard time, over a coast-to-coast NBC-WEAF network by Montgomery Ward.

This universally known story, the eighth of the series of dramatizations from the Old Testament, will be enacted by a cast of 15 to the musical accompaniment of a symphonic orchestra of 25 pieces and an A Cappella choir of 30 voices.

A scene which will mark the spectacular in radio production is the ceremonial reception given Sheba upon her visit to Solomon in Jerusalem. As lavish gifts are exchanged the orchestral background will indicate the gaiety of the celebration in the palace.

The dramatic highlight of the program follows when Solomon demonstrates his wisdom in deciding which of two women, each claiming the same child, is the real parent.

MAN BURNED BY NAPHTHA
BLAZE AT COURT HOUSE

A rag filled with naphtha caught fire in the hands of Erwin Bunchowski, one of the workers at the Ottawa county court house, as he was wringing out the rag. The man's hands were burned and some of the woodwork nearby was scorched. Bunchowski was working in the judge of probate's office and was wringing some excess naphtha out of the rag. As it caught fire he dropped it near a nail half filled with naphtha. Herbert Brossett, working near, saw the accident and quickly grabbed the nail and threw it out of the window, thus averting what might have been a serious accident.

The painter was at work the next morning, although his hands are sore, and the marred woodwork was quickly remedied so no trace of the fire remains there.

FORCES YOUNG WOMAN TO DRIVE HIM FROM GRAND RAPIDS AT POINT OF REVOLVER

(Zeeland Record)

Zeeland police are looking for a man of about 40 or 45 years of age, 5 feet 5 inches tall, wearing a "nigger hair" dark-colored overcoat who Wednesday forenoon was in the immediate vicinity of Zeeland, and anyone having information of any person answering the above description will confer a favor on the authorities by reporting to them without delay.

The man in question is wanted on the charge of kidnaping, and he is probably a dangerous character, and a stranger to this community. This man, it is reported, on Wednesday morning, at about 8:30 o'clock, stopped a young lady who was driving a car somewhere near Burlingame and forced her at the point of a small black revolver to drive him to Zeeland. At the Fairview intersection with M21 he ordered her to drive south on Fairview road, and at the intersection of Fairview and Lincoln he got out of the car and directed her to drive back to Grand Rapids, with the warning not to notify police, "because I've got your number," "because she took a threat against her life should she cause him any trouble. This was the last seen of the man in connection with the incident, and the lady did not summon the courage to report it to police until she reached Grand Rapids at about ten o'clock.

Immediately Grand Rapids police got into short-wave radio communication with Chief Bosma, who, assisted by Undersheriff Ryeenga, has been scouring this section without results up to the time of this writing.

For obvious reasons the lady's name is being withheld, and it is doubtful that any further development will result from the meager information.

CURTAIN STRETCHER
FACTORY AT ZEELAND

Zeeland city is this week witnessing the institution of a new manufacturing concern, to be known as the L. & K. company, comprised of two local men.

Although the new concern is to employ only the two men concerned in this company, it is concerns like this that finally grow to considerable proportion and become the mainstay of local communities.

The men who have organized this concern are Messrs. George Lampen and Roy Keppel, both residents of this community for many years. They are to manufacture the newly invented curtain stretcher, which was recently exhibited at Mr. Keppel's place of business, and of which the accompanying illustration is a good picture.

The stretcher is manufactured for the use in stretching lace curtains and other material of that character, and it is adjustable to any size curtain that may be required. One of the outstanding features of the stretcher is that it produces a finished product that is absolutely square. The curtain is placed on the stretcher immediately after it is washed while still damp so that it may be formed to will and when it dries it has dried tight and straight, exactly the way it is desired.—Zeeland Record.

To the voters of OTTAWA COUNTY

Primary Election time is fast drawing near. At that time a Commissioner of Schools will be placed in nomination. There are three candidates on the Republican ticket, viz. Gerrit G. Groenewoud, our present Commissioner; Dick H. Vande Bunte, Superintendent of the Hudsonville School; and Otto Yntema, Principal of the Jamestown Public School.

The work of the present Commissioner is well known to you all but a comparison of the qualifications and fitness of the other two candidates should be of interest.

Those of Mr. Yntema may be summed up thus—He has the necessary academic qualifications for the position and has been Principal of the Jamestown ten-grade school for six years but has had little actual teaching or supervisory experience in the rural schools.

On the other hand Mr. Vande Bunte, in addition to the academic qualifications, has had a very full and interesting career. He has been a teacher in the Ottawa County Schools for eighteen years—several years as teacher in the rural schools, and the last five years as Superintendent of the Hudsonville Public School. He, therefore, has had actual teaching and supervisory experience in all the grades from the Kindergarten through the High School.

For four years he gained valuable experience by being a member of the Ottawa County Board of Examiners.

He has excellent ability as a leader and organizer in social, civic, and religious circles. He was State President of the Michigan Christian Endeavor Union for three years, has been song director at numerous occasions at large meetings all over the County and State, has been a P.T. A. speaker for years, and has been in close touch with the superintendents and teachers of Ottawa County during his professional career.

Mr. Vande Bunte is a World War veteran with overseas service, a member of the American Legion, and at the close of the war was appointed brigade teacher of English and Americanization for the foreigners in the American Army.

He was a candidate for the Commissionership eight years ago, but Mr. Groenewoud at the time had the office for four years, and it was only fair that he retained it. Mr. Vande Bunte came to Hudsonville Public Schools five years ago on the persuasion of the Board of Education. He at that time agreed to a one-year contract for it was his ambition to run for the Commissioner's office that next Spring, now four years ago. When that time came he was persuaded to stay here and carry on the excellent work he had started as superintendent. Another four years have passed. Mr. Vande Bunte has all this time cherished the Commissioner Office. He is an excellent candidate for the position and warrants your support at the Primaries on March 4.

Every voter interested in the Educational Welfare of the children of Ottawa County should vote.

HENRY MOES, M. D.

Secretary of Board of Education of Hudsonville Public Schools.

ANCHOR PEACE POLL SHOWS ATTITUDE OF STUDENT BODY

Eighty-one per cent of the Hopeites voting in the recent peace poll conducted by the Anchor declared that they would bear arms if the United States were invaded by some foreign foe. This closely approximated the vote of other Michigan colleges on the same question. Again the vote was approximately the same when 28.2 per cent of the Hope voters, as compared with 31.2 per cent of voters in Detroit, Michigan State, and the University of Michigan, said that an air force and a navy second to none was the best method to avoid another great war. Most of the other questions had a variance of ten points or more and on the question of government control of armaments and munitions the vote was Hope 74.5 yea, while the Michigan colleges voted 92.4 yea.

There follows a complete classification of the votes:

MORE "SIGN-UP" CORN-HOG MEETINGS

Corn-hog educational meetings were closed in Ottawa county on March 26. Nine meetings were held at which time the agricultural agent discussed various features of the 1935 program. The agent stressed the apparent danger of an enormous corn crop in 1935. At the present time no surplus of corn is on hand. Present prices appear to the grower. It would be natural for growers to wish to produce a large crop hoping that present prices will continue. Due to reduced numbers of live stock on hand a large corn crop will result in a surplus next fall. The agent pointed out that there was a reduction of over 10,000,000 head of cattle in 1934 due to drought conditions. There was also a reduction in hogs and sheep. Over 85 per cent of the corn crop is used on the farm. Industrial uses require only about 12 per cent of the crop. If more corn is grown than is needed on the farms prices must drop. The resulting surplus of corn would cause an increase of live stock in 1936. First would come the drop in corn prices, then the drop in live stock prices.

Because of the above a corn-hog program is to be offered in 1935. Sign-up meetings have been set as follows:

March 4—Conklin Grange hall, 9 to 12 a. m.; Nunica Grange hall, 1:30 to 3:30 p. m.
 March 5—Robinson Township hall, 9 to 12 a. m.; Allendale Township hall, 1 to 4 p. m.
 March 6—Vriesland Town hall, 9 to 11:30 a. m.; Smallegan's Hall Forest Grove, 12:30 to 4 p. m.
 March 8—Georgetown Town hall, 9 to 11:30 a. m.; Blendon Town hall, 1:30 to 3 p. m.
 March 11—Olive Township hall, 9 to 12 a. m.; Coopersville Village hall or Coopersville Co-op, 1 to 3 p. m.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON MOTORISTS DO STUNTS ON LAKE MICHIGAN BEACH

The beach on the south shore at the oval, Grand Haven, beginning at the pier and continuing for miles south was a speedway Sunday for many automobiles, the hard frozen sand making a veritable Daytona Beach speedway. Drivers enjoyed the pleasure of driving along the beach with a fringe of icebergs along shore against which the waves of the lake dashed, making a beautiful sight in the afternoon light.

No highway restrictions were imposed and the more intrepid drivers, lured by the frozen condition, tried sand dunes and pathways seldom opened to the automobile. A few cars struck soft spots and one merry crowd was observed on one dune shoveling and pushing to get the car released. Near the pier where the beach is very wide drivers were doing stunts in circles on the beach and no traffic cops interfered. Cars were parked on the oval at Grand Haven, regardless of sand and watched the antics of drivers along shore.

The "speedway" was ruined by the deluge of snow that fell shortly after dusk.

COUNTY FARM AGENT HAS MORE MEETINGS

A series of farm meetings has been scheduled by L. R. Arnold, county agricultural agent, for the week of March 4 to 9. On the following day, March 5, Dr. Harmer will discuss muck soils at the Hudsonville High school at 1:30 p. m., and at the city hall, Zeeland, at 9:30 a. m.

Dr. Harmer is well known to Ottawa muck farmers. He is recognized as one of the foremost muck soil experts in this country.

On Thursday and Friday, March 7 and 8, Mr. Morrish of the crops department, Michigan State college, will discuss sugar beet production. In these meetings he will discuss soils, preparation of seed bed, planting, cultivation and harvesting. Meetings have been set as follows:

March 8—Vriesland, 9:30 a. m.; Forest Grove, 1:30 p. m.

Mr. Pearson, 4-H club department, Michigan State college, will be in the county on March 6 to meet leaders and members interested in organizing live stock clubs this coming season.

In addition to the above meetings the county agent has scheduled a series of corn-hog sign-up meetings starting March 4 and continuing throughout the week. The corn-hog allotment committee, consisting of Sam Rymer, Claude McNitt and Glen Taylor will conduct these meetings.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE

GREEN vegetables are again plentiful and most of them fairly cheap. Green beans and peas and lima beans are attractively priced and excellent in quality. Two old standbys, cabbage and onions, have gone up considerably.

Strawberries are not only cheap but also flavorful and sweet. Old-fashioned Whitesap apples which are an all-purpose variety are especially attractive in price this week. Grapefruit and oranges are also inexpensive.

Butter prices are unchanged, but eggs are a little cheaper than last week. Most prices are practically the same as last week.

Here are three menus made up of seasonable foods adapted to different budget levels.

JUDGE MILES ANSWERS

The day Mr. Clark launched his campaign he wrote me: "No personal attack will be made by me. I will only submit my qualifications for the office and my views on the duties on a circuit judge."

I am sorry that he permitted anyone to induce him to depart from that resolution.

I see no reason for departing from the fundamental rule: "All things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

I agree that "cases should be settled," but courts exist because parties have been unable to settle. I forbid boys on probation using intoxicating liquor; do I understand that he disagrees with me? Mr. Clark is mistaken in his count; I have not been reversed by the supreme court 42 times; the number for 5 years is 32.

He gives some figures of court expense in Allegan for a certain three years during which the City of Allegan contested for the right to build a dam; it is unfortunate that he should have selected those years. It is also too bad that he should have made a mistake in his figures. No doubt he will correct them after election.

The trial of the Hauptmann case has cost a county in New Jersey a lot of money. I hope it won't be laid against the judge. The Ring case cost Allegan county some money, but I haven't heard Allegan people complain.

I am a candidate for second term; the election is next Monday, March 4.

FRED T. MILES, Circuit Judge.

BANK TELLERS, too, must be

Handwriting Experts

You may never write your signature twice alike on a check. Yet, despite these many variations, the paying teller in your bank must be prepared to recognize instantly your writing. A momentary "slip" on his part might mean heavy loss. He must be on the alert to detect anything wrong. He must know all the necessary facts about your account, to enable him to handle every transaction quickly and safely. It is a credit to him that in the handling of thousands of transactions he rarely "slips."

This ability is not acquired in a day or a week. Time and patience and careful, thorough training are required. The result is service and protection for you.

Jurist of Ottawa and Allegan County Makes Study of Michigan State Prison

JUDGE MILES OF HOLLAND PAID A VISIT TO PENAL INSTITUTION AT JACKSON TO ACQUAINT HIMSELF WITH CONDITIONS FIRST HAND

TEACH MANY TRADES—NO MORE CELLS—NO CORPORAL PUNISHMENT

Judge Fred T. Miles of Holland, Circuit Judge for Ottawa and Allegan counties, has been contributing three articles to the Allegan Gazette in which he relates his findings in a trip to Jackson prison. The articles in the Allegan newspaper are self-explanatory and follow:

(Allegan Gazette)
To the Editor of the Gazette:
In accordance with your request for a letter relating to my recent visit to Jackson prison I am writing you.

In the first place, I am hardly in position to give you the information you seek. My visit was very brief and principally for the purpose of interviewing a number of men sentenced from this circuit. I was accompanied by the probation officers, Mr. Jack Spangler of Ottawa county and Mr. J. J. Farrell of Allegan county. We visited the prison Wednesday afternoon and Thursday forenoon, the 9th and 10th. Practically all of Wednesday afternoon and probably half of Thursday morning was occupied by interviews, as we discussed the institution with the warden and interviewed twenty-eight inmates. Thus we had but two hours to examine the prison, its industries, and activities. It was not our intention to give the fact of our visit any publicity. However, a reporter for a Detroit paper found it out and seeming to think that it was

JUDGE FRED T. MILES

"news," gave the matter an importance neither intended nor desired. The purpose of our visit was in the interest of the men already sentenced as well as those who must necessarily be dealt with in the future, as we feel that in sentencing a man we should be fully aware of the natural implications following such sentence.

For instance, the court should know to what extent men are punished by imprisonment; the work required of them and living conditions and associates; their vocations and entertainments and conveniences and restrictions.

All this information is needed to determine intelligently the length of sentence, the information to be furnished the prison respecting the man sentenced, and the counsel to be offered the man himself.

From the above you will understand that any publicity respecting our trip is really beyond its purpose.

However, an interest naturally has been created and, pursuant to your request, I shall offer for the benefit of your readers such information as I believe will interest them.

It is generally known that a new and large state prison near Jackson was built a few years ago and the old prison has been all but abandoned. We did not visit the old prison but were informed that only one prisoner is housed there—Irving Latimer, who has been an inmate about forty-five years. The homes of nearly all the officials of the new prison are located about the old prison and are heated from its heating plant. The new prison is three miles north of the city of Jackson. The wall encloses fifty-four acres, and on the 10th of January the prison population was 5,143. Of these, 3,973 were white; 1,090 colored; 28 Indians; 96 Mexicans, and 6 Orientals. In connection with this it might be interesting to add, besides Jackson prison, this state maintains what is known as the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia, and the branch of the Michigan State Prison at Marquette; besides the hospital for the criminal insane at Ionia. A number of state prisoners have been sentenced to the Detroit House of Correction. I do not have the exact number of prisoners in these other institutions but the figures as furnished me two years ago probably are nearly the present population. At that time there were in the reformatory 1,749; in the Marquette prison, 916; in the Ionia hospital, 759, and in the Detroit house of correction, 385, making a total prison population for the state at that time of 9,414, of which but 254 were women. Of course this does not mean that there were no other persons imprisoned, as each county has a jail in each of which there is probably to be found at all times a number of persons serving short sentences.

In a letter from the Detroit house of correction, I am informed that a charge of one dollar per day for men and $1.15 per day for women prisoners is made. If this rate holds good in all the state prisons, it is thus costing the state of Michigan to maintain its prisons approximately $9,000 per day. Of course to this should be added the salaries of officials in all the various capacities and the amount necessary to support the dependents of the prisoners.

The last published report for Jackson prison was for the quarter ending September 30, 1934, at which time there were fourteen prisoners from Allegan county and twenty-five from Ottawa county. Of course, a number of prisoners from these counties are at the reformatory, and three from Ottawa county at Marquette. No doubt a comparison of the number of prisoners from this circuit with other circuits would be interesting, but space will hardly permit this. There are in Jackson prison from Wayne county alone, 2,472. The greater number come from the industrial centers and the lesser from the rural sections. Colored people have been attracted from the South to these industrial centers by reports of large wages, especially in the automobile industries. This is true also of a large number of white people from the South and from large cities. They have found it very difficult to adjust themselves and have been generally disappointed in the matter of employment. The result has been a criminal situation peculiar to Michigan.

Another matter of interest, I think, may be the matter of the ages of those confined. In theory at least, the prison at Ionia is intended as a "reformatory," so that it is probable that the average age of those confined there is less than at Jackson. The report of the warden at Jackson for the quarter ending September 30, 1934, showed the number between the ages of 18 and 20 (inclusive) was 667; between 21 and 25 (inclusive) 1,113; from 26 to 30, 1,097; from 31 to 35 were 916; from 36 to 40 there were 374; from 41 to 45 there were 347; from 46 to 50 there were 208; from 51 to 60 there were 226; from 61 and older there were 66. This will show the ages of the Jackson inmates.

At Jackson prison the day begins at 5:30 a. m. Everyone is compelled to rise at that time and prepare for breakfast.

Each room no longer are the prisoners confined to mere cells, but in rooms of about nine by twelve contains a comfortable bed, a locker for clothing, a shelf for books, and a desk shelf for writing; a toilet and wash bowl with hot and cold water, thus giving conveniences for both comfort and cleanliness.

There is but one dining room which accommodates about seven hundred or eight hundred at a time, so the prisoners are divided into three or four groups, the first group going to breakfast at 6 o'clock, followed by the other groups in turn. The men march in a sort of military formation to the dining room. Any adequate description of the procedure for cooking and feeding of these men is beyond the purpose of this article, but is most interesting.

The attempt is made to give each man eight hours of useful employment each day, either on the extensive farms or in one of the various prison industries. The state has considerable difficulty in providing employment at work that will not meet with opposition from outside industries; so far as possible, prison labor is taken up with providing clothing, food and other supplies for the inmates themselves and things that the state would otherwise have to purchase in the open market, such as automobile license plates, certain state printing, furniture for state schools, etc.

It is impossible under the present plan to keep every man employed in these industries, and so excellent school facilities are provided for those who even pretend to a desire for improvement. Classes are provided all the way from the most elementary through various high school courses, and a so-called school of commerce gives opportunity for business training.

Classes are taught for the most part by inmates; there are quite a number of men who have had college advantages, and some of them are excellent teachers. Shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, accounting, commercial arithmetic, together with courses in English give a young man who really desires to improve himself excellent opportunity to do so.

In the shops, which are really training schools, the elements of most of the trades are taught by competent teachers. Men interested in farming are afforded every opportunity to study and test soils and the best methods of growing crops. Poultry is raised successfully even where no opportunity is had for sunlight. Mechanical drawing and its application in all sorts of shop work is taught efficiently, and a young man desiring to fit himself for almost any trade has here the opportunity of doing so.

An excellent library is maintained under competent management. Some well-educated and specially trained inmates make distribution of books and magazines. Newspapers from almost every locality of the state, and a number from outside are supplied for the reading rooms. Included in the mass of reading material are large numbers of magazines of "Western Stories," "Detective Stories," and other similar reading matter.

Every inmate indicates the class of reading that he desires and the same is placed in his room each day or as often as required, and he has opportunity to read by good electric light.

Every man is shut into his room at 6 o'clock in the afternoon and his lights are turned off at 9 in the evening, so that every man has opportunity to read, write, study or work on some private design between 6 and 9.

I am informed that none of the inmates are accorded special privileges so far as hours are concerned.

Attempt is made to fit every man into some vocation to which his former life and experience has prepared and adapted him; no attempt is made to punish him beyond "detention" for the crime for which he is committed to prison. Whipping or other physical punishments are prohibited in the prison of today, and punishments for infractions of rules take the form of deprivation of privileges, comforts and conveniences.

GLIMPSES OF MICHIGAN STATE PRISON
Pope has warned us:
"A little learning is a dangerous thing.
Drink deep, or taste not the Pierian spring."
Hardly a week passes but that someone is quoted as criticizing the prison at Jackson; I am convinced that they create false impressions. I hope not to be numbered with carping critics. Together with our probation officers I visited the prison two half days. Fully two-thirds of our time was taken with interviewing prisoners and officials. Of course, I have read somewhat about the prison and have discussed it with many returned inmates, and then I am in a better position, perhaps, to draw safe conclusions than one might be who has given it less attention.

What Is It?

(Copyright, W. R. U.)

The construction of this prison and its conduct and regulations are the product of some of the ablest minds of this state who have studied carefully the history and effects of criminal penology. One therefore should hesitate and be quite sure of his ground before finding fault.

In the first place it must be understood that most of the men sent to this prison have not taken kindly to law and rules. Generally they are not very well educated and are often mentally deficient. The prison report for the quarter ending September, 1934, showed that ninety inmates had college advantages; 866 high school advantages, and the remainder (over 4,000) were of common school or less, some being entirely illiterate.

In the next place it must be remembered that, aside from the crimes committed, many of these inmates have lived very irregular lives, often for years, "edging along just outside the prison bars."

These inmates range all the way from hardened and brutal men to weeping and repentant ones, and in character from men of iron nerve to morons of no character at all.

Such are the men with whom the officials of this prison must deal. The regular hours for rising and retiring, for eating and sleeping, for recreation and exercise, are intelligently enforced and are bound to have a beneficial effect on the minds and bodies of all men capable of learning.

The dental and medical attention, together with a sensible diet, generally results in the improved health of an inmate and may act as a stimulus to correct living upon his release. Eight hours of useful and productive labor each day, under excellent working conditions, is a valuable influence, especially as he is paid a small amount, ranging from ten to twenty cents per day, thus entitling him to purchase small luxuries such as library rights and school supplies or delicacies.

Many men, especially young men, avail themselves of the opportunities afforded to increase their knowledge and improve their skill. The prison furnishes the opportunity, and quite a number of young men are sensible enough to take advantage of it. It is my conclusion that half the men in this prison from almost every locality are an effort to prepare themselves for their future when released.

Within the high wall enclosing fifty-four acres are housed over 5,000 men, and some alarmists have recently declared that this is a volcano likely to erupt at any moment. However, there are buildings here separated from each other in such a way that any one building can be closed off from all the others upon the pressure of a button. No considerable number of men capable of leadership are found in any group and there is never a time in which all of these men are together. Possibility of any successful uprising is very remote and this should be apparent to an intelligent visitor.

While school facilities are afforded they are not enthusiastically used by the mass of inmates. Here it seems to me is opportunity for much improvement. When it is discovered that a man is "going to school" to avoid "going to work," he should be taken out of the school at once and put to work. My objection to the school is that there is too much dilly-dallying on the part of many. It is my opinion that school facilities should be limited to those who wish to learn after a test.

Another matter open to criticism is that of permitting inmates to choose what they will read. What a man reads in his leisure hours determines to some extent what he is the rest of the time. In spite of all that has been written on the subject I am of the opinion that prison authorities should try to furnish a man what is good for him and not soften down to furnishing him just what he wishes.

FORMER ZEELAND GIRL FRUSTRATES HOLDUP

Miss June Irvine, former Zeeland girl working in a Chicago restaurant, recently frustrated a holdup when she locked the cash drawer in answer to demands by two bandits for cash and frightened the pair away by calling for aid.

Later she identified the body of one of the men, killed in another restaurant holdup, and then went to police headquarters and identified the second robber in a lineup. He was reported to have confessed.

The next elimination debate for the Holland Christian High school team will be with the North Adams High school. It was decided following a drawing. No date has been set for the debate which will take place in Holland. The local team will take the negative side of the question. Thirty-two schools in the state are still in the eliminations.

even in the reading line. I may be accused of being narrow in my position. I understand that a man leaves a note under his pillow of the kind of reading matter he desires and it is furnished him, and that a great mass of such reading material includes the modern cheap "western magazines" and many others of this class. These stories of some smart Aleck, and how he did or didn't get by, may not do a lot of harm, but I am unable to see where it does any good. The prison has an excellent library and I am unable to see the necessity of furnishing the inmates with the daily papers. The trial of the Hauptmann case is probably interesting to most people but men who have already shown either bad or foolish tendencies need no further suggestions.

The Michigan prison fosters the trend of thought on prison management all over the country and seems to have adopted as its objectives detention, to protect society; reformation by strengthening the man's ability upon release to compete economically. The thought of "punishment" for the crime for which he is sentenced is pushed to the background. Upon arriving at the prison he is placed in quarantine for a spell and given opportunity to inform himself of the prison rules. If he obeys these rules while there he will suffer no punishment aside from being detained, and if he has dependents outside they will be provided for by the state or county during his absence. If he disobeys these rules he is put on a diet of bread and water and suffers solitary confinement, without reading material, and is "alone with his thoughts." Beyond this there is no physical punishment inflicted.

It is my opinion that our Michigan state prison fairly represents today the demands of the mass of people for "reformation and improvement," and also detention and no physical punishment.

Inside the prison, by allowances of "good time," making men "trusties" and other acts of encouragement, an effort is being made to the same end, that outside the prison we have in mind when a man is placed on probation, viz., to help a man to become a self-respecting citizen.

The results of imprisonment today are generally more effective than that achieved by the brutal methods employed a few generations ago. In saying this it is not my idea that we have reached anything like the ideal.

It is quite impossible to make the prison what it might be under our system of government. We may as well face the fact. It makes no difference how wise or efficient the warden or dentist, or doctor, or chaplain, or educator, etc., may be, he will probably lose the position when the administration changes from Republican to Democrat or vice versa. No doubt able men are usually appointed, but even so, no real plan can be worked out by any one person.

Considering, however, the system we work under, the men at the head of the state are doing their best to obtain the objective demanded by the people, which is not punishment but improvement and reformation. FRED T. MILES.

ALLEGAN COUNTY NEWS

An agricultural engineering specialist from Michigan State college will teach Allegan county farmers how to repair farm machinery at a meeting March 8 at the Zerkus Implement Co. store in Allegan. An old day mower will be brought to the meeting and all the needed repairs and adjustments made. The demonstration was arranged by County Agricultural Agent A. D. Morley.

A campaign to emphasize the desirable qualities of apple juice and the juice of other fruits should greatly increase the demand for these products and therefore the fruit belt of Allegan county is indeed interested. California has used a vast sum of money to advertise her fruits and has succeeded in making the country "orange juice conscious." Most of the work on fruit juices by our agricultural colleges has related to apple cider, but studies are now under way on grape juice and rhubarb juice and studies should be started on cherry, currant, pear, plum and other fruit juices. These drinks could be made attractive in flavor and appearance and might be packed in small bottles to sell for as much as a good ginger ale. All this is along practical lines for the better merchandising of our native fruits.

Expect Better Days For Our State Farmers

CHANCE TO MAKE MORE MONEY ON FARM IN CORN, BARLEY, MEAT, SUGAR BEETS, BABY CHICKS, ETC.

Greater demand for farm products, higher prices for those sold, and a more promising prospect for the present year are some of the encouraging features discussed in the 1935 agricultural outlook for Michigan issued by the economics department of Michigan State College.

Improvement in financial conditions probably contributed most heavily to the increasing use of farm produce, even at the higher prices prevailing. Potato growers, dairymen and producers of canning cherries had the least share in the betterment of Michigan farm conditions. Increased receipts for produce sold was not an undiluted gain, however, as prices for goods bought also increased.

Some of the uncertainties of returns from crops of corn and wheat crops in Michigan are removed for the farmers who hold crop contracts. The acreage which they have planted or will plant this spring is determined and they will receive benefit payments in addition to the sales prices for their grains. Michigan farmers have a favorable market for soft winter wheat.

Malting barleys are apt to bring a premium as the last crop was short. Malsters prefer the six row barleys for their purposes. All feed grains were a short crop last year and all available stocks will be cleaned up before harvest.

The last bean crop was only enough for a year's market supply so there should be little carry over. The short crop was caused by drought conditions, however, and large plantings this year will be followed by low prices unless the weather again limits production of beans. Rising prices for meats may lead to an increased use of beans for human food.

Potato growers now face the old situation of low prices for a large crop. Prospects for the 1935 crop are, of course, dependent upon the acreage planted in the whole country. At present, the growers have asked the government to aid them in placing potato production upon a controlled basis. Any regulations adopted for this crop probably will be placed upon the amount of stock marketed and not upon the number of acres of potatoes grown.

Growers of sugar beets are guaranteed parity prices for this year's crop. This will aid Michigan farmers who have a base acreage for beets. Farmers who have never grown beets will not be able to obtain contracts unless former growers refuse to grow enough beets to make up the Michigan allotment.

The future for dairymen appears a little brighter. Prices for dairy products are higher than in the whole country. At present, the growers have asked the government to aid them in placing potato production upon a controlled basis. Any regulations adopted for this crop probably will be placed upon the amount of stock marketed and not upon the number of acres of potatoes grown.

Owners of brood mares apparently still have an opportunity to make a fair profit for raising good colts. There has been no increase in the numbers of horses on farms in the past few years. The decline in the number of old horses has more than offset the greater number of colts.

Export markets for American fruits have remained more constant than for any other class of agricultural products. Production of fruits is increasing, however, and growers of cherries for the canning plants are growing more fruit than the market will consume at a fair price. There appears to be no reason for increasing the acreage of grapes in bearing vineyards will produce a sufficient crop to supply the present market. Two light crops of peaches in Michigan have left the growers hoping for better production this year.

The prospects for a better market for vegetables appear brighter. Stores of canned vegetables have been reduced as a consequence of short crops following the drought. Canneries may offer contracts at higher prices and for larger acreages than last year.
